Below is a sample graph in Excel of how you can view the data received from Qualtrics.

A1.Q3: Beginning in 9th grade and continuing through graduation from high school, students in my school participate in grade-appropriate college and career readiness activities, including:

- Community service learning experience
- Career interest inventories
- High school exit tests
- Practice college admissions exams
- College admissions test preparation (e.g., for PSAT, SAT, ACT)

The graph shows the distribution of students' participation in these activities, with categories for almost no students, fewer than half, more than half, and most students.
